Farm Bureau Official Information

SATURDAY TO BE JUNIOR CLUB DAY

Young Stock Raisers Will Meet in H. S. and Banquet at "Y."

Saturday will be junior club day in Rock county with the dairy club, the baby beef and sheep clubs started at a meeting and banquet to be held by the county junior club committee for the boys and girls and their parents. The meeting for the Rock county pig club will be held later, probably June 2, when the pigs are to be delivered under the new contract system.

All there will be about 63 rural boys and girls in the dairy club, about 10 in the baby-beef and 15 or 16 in the sheep contest. This number establishes a new record for junior club work in Rock county.

Junior calves for the Rock county Holstein club were selected by J. A. Craig, Russell Clark and others after a trip to Green county. Not enough registered calves of club work and of the right age could be located in Rock county since most of the dairymen here plan to have a milk float during the winter months.

The meeting will be called in the new high school at 10 a. m. All members of the committee, the ship supervisors, others interested in the club work, the members and their parents have been invited to attend. About 300 are expected. The banquet at noon will be served in the Janesville Y. M. C. A.

Those in the baby beef and sheep clubs will attend to receive their instructions, record books and see the club movie to be shown in the new high school. This program is under the direction of L. E. Jackson, agriculture instructor. In the Shorthorn, Brown Swiss and Jersey classes, calves have been furnished either by the parents or the association. Those having the association furnish Holstein calves will draw lots.

KEEP MORE BROOD SOWS THAN IN 1922

Madison—An expansion of hog raising on Wisconsin farms as indicated by the number of brood animals was announced by the state department of stock reporting service. In the same report the service announced that farm labor supply of 83 per cent of normal was available in crops and high pork prices are said to have encouraged farmers in keeping more brood animals during the last two years. There were 1,000,000 brood sows on Wisconsin farms April 1 than a year ago.

The farm labor supply is said by Paul Nuythus, crop reporter, to be low normal. He declares that "the effect of increased industrial employment Fox river valley and in the lake shore counties of the state is very apparent, the supply of farm labor in these districts being 70 per cent of normal. The need for farm labor about April 1 has been less urgent than for past years due to weather conditions which have delayed spring work."

The condition of rice and winter wheat is said to be almost identical with the 10 year average condition. For the entire country the condition is reported to be below the average.

CRAZY WORLD IN GRIP OF A NEW DANCE EPIDEMIC

between Rikkyavik, Iceland, and a point midway between the equator and the tropic of Cancer, went insane. Perhaps all of them are that way, where dancing is concerned. In fact, Dr. Knight Dunlap, professor of elementary psychology at Johns Hopkins university, says that the mania dancing is a "dementia Americana." It is the desire to outstrip or actually outstep all others that lead them out on the dance floor to glide and fox-trot for hours and hours and more hours. And at this hour some of them still are dancing with new "world's records" in the offing.

The worst of it is—and remember this is written from a man's point of view—that it is "showing up" the men. They can't stand the pace. It's too rough a sport for them, and the women are displaying amazing powers of endurance that give the men the laugh to that "weaker sex" idea.

Perhaps that's one reason why the police, health officers and other officials—all men—are beginning to frown on these dance mania things.

Mayor Curley of Boston denied permission for the holding of two contests in the Hub. "It's all foolishness," he says.

The chief of police of Seattle also has forbidden a contest there and similar action is expected in San Francisco.

The New York authorities discovered a law that prohibits any athletic contest or endurance test which does not provide for suitable rest periods in each twenty-four hours. When it was announced that the law would be enforced, it was thought that the doom of a perfectly good marathon, already twenty-four hours under way, was sealed. But what's a little thing like that to the dancing mania?

Moved the Whole Contest.

The contest, with participants and spectators, merely was moved over to New Jersey, without the loss of a step. A big army of men to the dance hall here, contestants danced out and onto the truck, followed by the musicians, and it was driven to a ferry, crossed the river and drove up to a new hall at Mt. Lee, N. J. There the contestants descended—they had kept up the dance all the way—and resumed their effort to break the record.

The New York-New Jersey marathon is now nearing its fortieth hour.

While several cities are barring the dancers, Chicago, always liberal in such matters, is going to give the steps all the time they want. It was announced that the Dancing Masters' association would hold a ten-day marathon there April 24.

Herman Thundersen, health commissioner, said he would not interfere.

A Matter of Personal Liberty.

"If anyone wishes to dance himself to death," he said, "it's entirely a matter of personal liberty."

Alvord regarding confirmation ceremonies here, Sunday.

PAULSON SITS AS COUNTY CHAIRMAN

Is First Evansville Supervisor To Hold Office in 15 Years.

With the election, Tuesday, of Martin L. Paulson, supervisor from the second ward of Evansville, as chairman of the Rock county board as successor to W. W. Walton, Clinton, the smallest city in the county is honored with the chairmanship for the first time in 15 years. It is about that long since A. C. Gray, Evansville, founded the board, as chairman of the board. It is a peculiar coincidence that Mr. Paulson succeeded Mr. Gray as supervisor.

The took three ballots to elect Mr. Paulson whose candidacy was pushed by Dr. C. M. Smith, Evansville, although the nomination was made by Supervisor George E. Doty, Edgerton. Other nominations were C. O. Osgard, Spring Valley, by Supervisor Clementson; Supervisor Doty by J. C. Wikom; M. P. Richardson, Janesville, by George Woodruff; and W. S. Zerivgo, Beloit, by Dr. C. W. Morrison.

Richardson Leads on First

The vote on the informal ballot showed Richardson, 16; Richardson, 11; Osgard, 8; Perrigo, 6, and Doty, 2. Twenty-one was necessary to elect and on the final ballot Paulson received 25; Richardson, 9 and Osgard, 7; no votes being cast for either Doty or Perrigo.

Former chairman Dalton, before stepping down, thanked the board members for their consideration, and Chairman-elect Paulson, taking the seat on the platform, thanked the board for the honor conferred upon him, and said he would serve them as best he could.

Snyder for Vice Chairman

Proceeding to the election of a vice chairman, Supervisor E. D. McGowan, Janesville, nominated Former Vice Chairman C. O. Osgard and R. B. Snyder, Clinton, was placed in nomination by Dr. C. M. Smith. The first ballot Osgard got 29 and Snyder, 15, scattering 3. Mr. Snyder was nominated on the second ballot, receiving 31 and Osgard 19, with 4 votes missing.

Paulson had given board members to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. D. Dana Treadway, and several are expected to arrive at Beloit and extend congratulations to the Beloit supervisor and his wife.

The county board extended an invitation to the training school students to attend the board meeting, Thursday afternoon, on motion of Supervisor E. D. McGowan.

Route 20 Trip Thursday

Chairman Paulson had to decide a ticklish situation ere he had been in the chair five minutes. As Supervisor McGowan moved to make Highway 20, a special order of business for 2 p. m. Thursday, W. S. Perrigo, Beloit, cried loudly for adjournment and demanded that his resolution be put, claiming that a motion for adjournment took precedence over all others. Paulson ruled in favor of McGowan and the motion was carried. Supervisor Smith, Evansville, during the argument had moved in adoption of rules of the last session for the present and this was side-tracked with the result that it was forgotten entirely.

Supervisor Woodruff gave notice that he would ask the board to give consideration some time during the session on providing additional facilities for tubercular patients in the county at the Jefferson county sanatorium.

Would Aid T. B. Patients

"It is evident we are not going to build a sanatorium this year and we have a large number in Rock county who need sanatorium care," said Supervisor Woodruff. "The state board of control has stated that any arrangement made by Rock county with Jefferson county for the care of patients will have their sanction. This board has never done anything for tubercular patients, and if it won't do it one way, it should do it another. Judge Field could be approached to make an arrangement whereby additional beds will be provided."

From the resolution making it a special order of business, it is evident that the last thing in regard to Highway 20 from Janesville to Brodhead, has not been heard of or done. Being governed by the action of the board at the November session, and the judgment of the state highway commission, the county highway department has completed a survey for construction of five miles of concrete out Pleasant street. This leaves it at a point where it can be continued either to Manover and Orfordville as originally planned or through Footville as the state highway commission would like to see it.

East Road Route

Supervisors representing townships east of Janesville are awaiting an opportunity to get through a motion assuring construction of part of Highway 20 toward Delevan and if the supervisors were a night or two to the west, something may be done to build the road to the east.

The county board is apparently made up to allowing the state highway commission to further detain in the matter of the routes than necessary that the state and federal aid will be secured. Attendance of representatives from various sections is expected Thursday.

"OLIVER TWIST" IS BOOKED FOR APOLLO

Manager James Zanias of the Apollo theater announces the booking of one of the supreme achievements in the motion picture world as "Oliver Twist," a First National attraction starring Jackie Coogan. It will play at that theater for four days starting Monday. It is the Oliver Twist of Dickens, but not being brought up to date and is said to carry the same atmosphere that in the book, made it among Dickens' best works. Jackie Coogan, who is the greatest boy of his career, while those who all him are well known—Lon Chaney as Fagin, Gladys Brookwell and Lionel Belmore, returns and continues a beautiful and true to the period and place they represent.

"ADAM'S RIB" MOST SPECTACULAR MOVIE

One of the most spectacular bits of photography ever made is witnessed in "Adam's Rib" to play at the Myers theater starting Sunday, when a glimpse of the stone age, of the quarrels and loves of people then as parallel with the same passions of today, is seen. Cecil De Mille has made this his masterpiece and just that one "Flash-back" is an achievement. It is used, however, only to bring out certain points in the compelling story that makes up the picture. Not alone on elaborateness and beauty to attract the eye is the picture based. It has a story that should appeal to all, considering as it does the very foundations of society. An excellent cast interprets the various parts, among the stars being Anna Q. Nilsson, Theodore Kosloff, Milton Sills, Pauline Garon and Elliott Dexter.

SCHOOL BOARD IS ASKED TO DEFER $20,000 EXPENDITURE

During future council meetings, a change from the practice in the past.

"I think the less formality and red tape we have, the better off we'll be," declared Mr. Gibbons, in offering a motion that the president and city attorney draw up a set of simple resolutions to be presented to the school board at the next meeting, Monday night.

At the meeting passed, while a photographer took a flash light picture of the group for the Gazette.

Committees Are Appointed.

In order that the city may continue to function without a city manager, Mr. Atwood and Mr. Gibbons offered a motion that the president appoint committees to divide the work among the several members, much after the plan of the old council. This was adopted unanimously and Mr. Jensen, Wednesday, announced his committee appointments as follows:

Health committee—Atwood and Gibbons, to serve with city engineer, city attorney, city clerk and president.

Fire and water, police and license—Jacobs.

Highway, sewerage and parks—Atwood.

Public buildings and lighting—Gardner.

Purchasing—Gibbons.

Legislative—McCue, Jacobs and Jensen.

Mr. Gardner was elected as the council's representative to the city plan commission and Mr. Jensen has more appointments to make to this body to succeed William McVicar and James True. These will be announced later.

Consideration of School Board.

Proceeding to consideration of other business, a dispute developed when Mr. Gibbons presented a resolution that the school board be asked to defer the purchase of cafeteria equipment and bleachers for the new high school for the present and to return $20,000 of the recent $30,000 appropriation back to the city. The plan was to allow them to retain $10,000 for putting the grounds in shape.

While Mr. Atwood assented to holding up the purchases, he stood for allowing the board to retain the entire $30,000 for other purposes, which he considers more important.

FARMERS FEEL NO GREAT FRIENDSHIP FOR LEGISLATURE

SEE NO ADVANTAGE IN LAWS BEING ENACTED OR PROPOSED.

ARE GETTING SORE 8-Hour Day Opposed by Rock County Farmers—Against Socialism.

Farmers all over Rock county are showing grave concern, and in many instances under disgust, at the Wisconsin legislature.

The legislative situation, explained one farmer member of the Rock county board, "is like an automobile that is mixed dead in the mud. They are in deep and cannot go forward or back. They are stuck in a muddle and getting no where."

The tax middle, the highway controversy, the freak bills and the racial matters are the things that have brought the farmers to their senses in the matter of state administration, it appears.

"I am certainly proud of my vote against Blaine," said one supervisor. "Give Blaine and that bunch enough rope and time and they will hang themselves."

"I was up with a number of farmers to hearing about the dog-tax law," stated another supervisor. "There were more than 100 farmers about some fool piece of legislation that could not talk good English. Look at the names you see mentioned on legislative matters. They are getting them all from there. There were a dozen or more farmers, all land owners, having to wait hours and hours after the bill was scheduled and they were discussing some socialist bill."

"They are not trying to legislate," said D. A. McCarthy, Porter. "It's just one great political mess."

"You want my opinion of the legislature. Well it is the expression 'punk,' declared C. S. Boynton, Avon. "There is no use in favor of agricultural co-operation and there is too much Socialism. Our farmers do not want Socialistic laws. It is the rottenest we ever heard of. It is not going to do any good. It is the expression of the response from J. C. Wixom. 'You don't have to go very far north before they begin to take the law into their own hands. The farmers are the goat.'"

According to men versed in the present legislature the farmer members have not been able to get anything done. They are voting with the socialists and kindred interests with the hopes that something, somewhere they will be able to trade votes on agricultural measures.

Moseley's Opinion

"What can we hope for in the way of laws for the farmer?" questioned H. B. Moseley, a farmer and a member of the Assembly. "You have little show in the Assembly to halt these freak bills."

"The thing that concerns the farmer is not this lot of useless legislation but that the price of his products is not being maintained with other merchandise," stated D. A. McCarthy. "The steel manufacturers, packers and auto makers force raises and the farm products go down. The adjustment. Every time they regulate something up in Madison up goes the cost."

Oppose 8 Hour Law

Farmers who decided opposition to the eight hour law. They also want to know what is coming of the tax question.

"There is no use trying to do anything with the Assembly," is the opinion expressed by a group. "This eight hour law will mean farmers will be under greater handicap and they will have to take more men to produce the same amount of merchandise in the city. The products will cost more and $35 a month is about the maximum a farmer can pay. The average farm laborer. Laborers will not stay on the farm with an eight hour day and we'll pay more for our products."

"That will be true for a while but the reaction will be that it will force laborers out of the city into the country. Cuts in the price of the products will be paid in the market. The third of one-quarter under the present schedule of prices and he cannot live in the city," said H. B. Moseley.

"Good and Sore"

"You wouldn't print what I think of the legislature," said Frank Finch, and he, echoed a common expression.

"The farmers are out of temper, and more than that, unless some sane legislative tactics are employed they are going to be a good and sore about election time. One supervisor answered the question.

BIG DEMAND FOR USED FURNITURE

Washington. Phone 4001-W.

This ad was inserted Friday and Saturday and everything practically sold by noon. The advertiser in all about 75 calls on the above furniture. "I am well pleased with results gained through my ad. I had planned on leaving the furniture in my yard, but on account of selling all my furniture. Don't delay if you have any old furniture around the house just ask for Advertiser—He will help you word your ad to make it pay."

Christianity in Every-Day Life Urged at Rotary

The need of Christian leadership applied to every-day life and affairs was detailed by the Rev. Everett Jones, Philadelphia, who spoke at the Rotary club meeting in the Grand hotel, Tuesday afternoon.

"We have unlimited laws and regulations but not accomplish the end toward which we are seeking," he said. "Diplomacy as exercised on our national affairs will not change the retaliation among nations. Diplomacy is only the political frame-work on which the relations of nations are built. We must get back to the principles of Jesus. We want honest dealings between nations, not international deceit."

Two main statutes will bridge the gap between labor and capital. Rather it will be finally settled only when both labor and capital have Christian vision and Christian leadership.

It is up to the churches to furnish that, Christian leadership by Christian education."

The Janesville Rotary club voted to adopt a plan of making a partial payment for the employment of the J. H. S. band director during the summer months. The boys' program. The chairman of the boys' work committee was made a member of the board of directors at Tuesday's meeting.

Eldred Charles discussed "The Church in the Community" saying that it should be the life witness and example of Christian ideals. The Rev. Hamilton Mercer, San Bernardino, Cal., took for his subject, "The Spirit of the Church." He urged that members should practice fidelity in order to put the church on a sound financial basis.

The Rev. Benjamin W. Tate, Watertown, N. Y., spoke on "The Cost of Building a Church," saying in part, "It takes long years of preparation to do big things. This church is only beginning the work that God can do in this city. Every one must cooperate to build the best possible church. Give and sacrifice until it hurts. It is not what we have received but what we have given that makes the Christian life worth while."

John P. Fisher concluded the program with a short talk in which he expressed appreciation for the loyalty and cooperation of officers and members from the present time. A special tribute was paid by Rev. Frank H. Marion in appreciation of the services of George Bergman as musical director and in connection with the junior department of the church and bible school.

The body of Mrs. Gertrude Taylor, who died in Chicago, Sunday, was brought here Tuesday and buried in Forest cemetery. Accompanying the remains were her husband, two children, a sister and a brother. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of A. F. Taylor, now living in Chicago, who at one time managed a hotel here and later a women's furnishing store in Janesville.

Mrs. Frank Jurdich is ill at her home, 417 Randolph street. She was a central stationer. Mrs. Jurdich and Mrs. Fred Young, Tuesday night, the officers elected for the ensuing year were: Clara Jensen, president; Minnie Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Charles Sweeney Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. George Blanchard, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Oscar Olson, treasurer. Mrs. Alfred Anderson and Mrs. Fred Young were elected delegates to the first district convention at Evansville.

The City Management Council.

Janesville saw something new Tuesday evening. It was a group made up of six men and one woman sitting about a table acting as the board of directors of a $30,000,000 corporation known as the municipality of Janesville. For the first time in years—so many in fact that no one remembers when it was otherwise—there is no member of the council who either actually or in the popular mind, represents any special interest or privilege. Therefore it starts with no promises to make good on and no goods to deliver to anybody except the people of the city.

In this connection a statement made by the former mayor of Janesville Monday night is interesting. He said:

"We are turning over to the new council a good fat budget. There is plenty of money in the funds as has been discovered by the committees which have been going over the books the past few days."

It seems that there is a wide difference of opinion over the meaning of a "fat budget." It was disclosed Tuesday evening that the money available for the operation of the city is actually less than $75,000 and may even be less when the books are gone over and the funds already spent out of the budget allowances are summarized. It has been no secret that the funds have been regularly and continuously appropriated in such a manner that the incoming council faces a serious financial condition. Had it been done purposely to embarrass the city manager government, it could not have been more thorough. That was patent before the election. It was perhaps on this basis that the statement was made that a city manager need work only two hours a day since he would have nothing to work upon for 1923 in the way of finances. In the street and kindred and associated funds having to do with repairs and making of streets, sidewalks, sewers and other like work, there is less than $60,000 for some dozen divisions. That may be the idea of a "fat budget" but the fat is somewhat stringy and lacks grease.

This situation is a condition and not a theory. Soft words and self-laudation change the actual facts not a whit. Fortunately the city manager law permits the new council to make such changes in the budget as it deems fit and this may aid somewhat. But it is well that the stockholders in the municipality of Janesville are informed on this subject and they should be given the complete figures as soon as the audit has been made. The new council was entitled to such an audit but it has not yet been made and it must wait.

Janesville may have confidence in its new council to meet without fear or favor this condition. It has made a most excellent beginning. The election of Jacob K. Jensen to the presidency is to have placed a large responsibility on willing and capable shoulders. There is no hurry about the selection of a city manager. Such a step needs the most careful and serious consideration. In the interim the council is the governing board of the city and behind it is the high expectation of a large majority of the people of the city who elected these seven for definite and clearly defined reasons.

Mr. Martin Paulson, we greet and congratulate you as chairman of the county board.

18 Out of 13,000

Eighteen convictions were made out of 13,000 liquor law offenders arrested by the New York City police between April 1921 and December 1922 in New York city. Magistrate Corrigan, testifying in an investigation of police inefficiency and other charges that bootleg graft hogs combined the police department of the metropolis, declared that if the police force could only get 18 convictions out of 13,000 arrests, "it is absolutely inefficient or abominably corrupt." He told of a raid of 23 policemen in one place, who drank 75 bottles of cordial from the supply of captured liquors. At about the same time the president of the bar association of Connecticut was calling the attention of the law class at Yale to the reduced number of police cases due to prohibition and that the prohibition law was ineffective on the statute books. New York is wet and defiant because apparently it has a criminal police force.

We are rapidly approaching B. V. D. weather.

World Cruising With Cameras

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—A number of intrepid picture hunters, armed with high powered cameras, have just been sent out on foreign expeditions by the National Geographic society. They are going to romantic corners of the earth, with definite instructions as to the sort of pictorial big game they are to bring back.

These instructions, mapped out by Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society, show there is considerably more to a successful picture than skillful photography. Every one knows that out of a collection of photographs in a magazine or newspaper, one arrests the eye and stirs the imagination, while another scarcely attracts a second's notice.

Most of us rarely analyze this element of attraction in pictures, but the picture specialist does. Dr. Grosvenor is regarded as one of the pioneers in the study and selection of pictures for their publication value. The idea of using the camera for recording the multitudinous phases of human life and physical environment was first engaged in by the National Geographic society. Dr. Grosvenor has devoted 23 years to answering the question of what kind of pictures people like most. He has given his life to making a 7 by 10 page the "eye piece" by which even those who cannot read may see the infinite variety of places and peoples all the way round the world.

Geographic pictures represent only one phase of photography, it is true, but the standards suggested by the instructions in a little alteration can be applied to almost any type of picture. The National Geographic society considers that when you see geographic pictures you rule out the ephemeral, the freakish, the trivial; but you include all the strange sights of curious peoples at work or play or worship, all the fascinating pranks of jungle animals and backyard insects, the refreshing beauty of mountain streams, giant glaciers, dimly forest, or mysterious desert—in short, human interest pictures.

The things that count in a geographic picture are beauty through subject, composition, and arrangement; geographic interest, illustrating the typical dress, customs, industries, and amusements of the people in a far-off land, together with the physical or topographic characteristics of the country; the pictorial or decorative effect of a picture, and the educational value obtained through the successful combination of the other points.

In photographs which show the residents of strange lands the people pictured should be shown actually doing something—going about their daily life, preparing food, planting crops, weaving cloth, attending religious ceremonies, playing games, and so on.

This is a plea for that elusive element, atmosphere. Fortunately, atmosphere is now almost as popular a term with the photographer as it is with the artist. As a result, "look pleasant, please" is now restricted almost entirely to the portrait studio where the chief aim is frankly to achieve a pleasing likeness of the sitter. Fiji Islanders and other picturesque folk are no longer lured away from their fascinating pursuits and smile listlessly into a camera lens. The camera men realize that the public prefers to see people and scenes as they are. Thus atmosphere not only sells the imagination but it serves accuracy.

Pictures should be a valuable aid to the accuracy of impression. Explorers sometimes visit places that are scarcely described so that others will have any idea of the look of the place. Dr. R. D. Griggs, who explored the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes in Alaska, said that he feared the fate of Jim Bridger, herald of Yellowstone's phenomena, who was characterized as a Munchausen by his own generation, but is now having monuments erected to him.

In an account of his experiences in the valley, Dr. Griggs writes: "Many times I have been thankful for the tools which modern travel and had placed in our hands. With cameras, halftones and natural color photography to record our discoveries, our advantages over the old-time explorer who could supplement his accounts with nothing better than sketches is enormous."

It is not strange that Dr. Griggs depended on pictures to prove his veracity, considering that his account included stories of how wood might be lighted by poking into water of the bubbling up from the earth's depths of a lake of incandescent sand, of the mystery of two cubic miles of missing rock, and of a crater into which all the buildings of six New York might be plunged.

Even when a process or scene is not so remarkable that it defies description, pictures add immeasurably to the vividness of the reader's understanding of the various articles of wide human use are produced and whence they come. The silk, cotton, linen, and other textiles we wear, and the meat, fish, bread, vegetables, and spices we eat, have their individual stories which can be told more effectively for the layman if they are illustrated with good pictures.

China, Spain, and the Holy Land are almost devoid of trade by the improvidence of the people, while great forests predominate in similar settings in other parts of the world. Holland is well known for its flat meadows, crisscrossed by canals and with windmills outlined on the horizon, while Switzerland is noted for its high mountains and deep valleys. These are examples of physical characteristics of the different parts of the earth, and to give an adequate idea of each country a certain number of such scenic pictures must be published. Every one designed to show scenery, however, is made more interesting and attractive by the inclusion of a human figure.

Photographic expeditions now in the field illustrate the wide cruising radius of The Geographic's ceaseless search for interpretative pictures. Angel Falls, Angel Falls, the highest waterfall in the world, is being photographed by the remote sections of Spain. Donald McGehee has been sent to catch the more rugged beauties of the Scandinavian countries. Three Scotch brothers, Charles, William and Robert Reid, are taking a series of little-known Wales. G. R. Ballance is continuing his search for fascinating subjects. Vittorio Sella, of Italy, and Ederly, of Hungary, are sending the cream of their work to The Geographic.

Maynard Owen Williams and Clifton Adams are two of the staff photographers of The National Geographic society who always are in the field. Mr. Adams a short time ago made a photographic survey of Sardinia, Corsica, and recently returned heavily laden from Mexico. Mr. Williams has just left for Europe where he will visit the new republics and spots which he has enough of the barren travel trade to hold their medieval charm and primitive modes of life—to write and make pictures for a period of two years.

Sixtus wants the assembly to declare itself completely free from the senate, run the state alone, and send to congress the resolutions for 100 per cent beer, the repeal of the 18th amendment, the removal of the Volstead act and all other interventions which now make the saloon impossible. The loud cry from Sixtus must be heard. He can write a letter to the president telling of his grievance. If that gets him no response he yet has the alternative of drowning his sorrow in that portion or the effete capital of Wisconsin known as "Little Italy," where the best is like the worst, where there ain't no ten commandments and a man can raise a thirst.

For another time Mr. Compers has disagreed with the supreme court. There appears to be only one way out of this, to appoint him to the court.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

BROTHERS ALL.
 We're brothers all, whatever the place,
 Brothers whether in rags or lace,
 Brothers all, by the good Lord's grace.

Some may sit in a royal hall,
 Some may dwell where the rooms are small;
 But under the skin we are brothers all.

Some may toil 'neath a burning sun,
 Some may dream where the waters run,
 But we're brothers all when the day is done.

Dreams of splendor and dreams of rest,
 Warm the proud and the poor man's breast;
 What's best for God, for us all is best.

By the sun that shines and the rains that fall,
 By the shadows flung on the garden wall,
 By the good Lord's grace, we are brothers all.

By the hurt that comes and the falling tear,
 By the common grief at the silent bier,
 And the grave that awaits, we are brothers here.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOUTON.

A recent movement in prison reform is reminiscent of the days when a convict in one of the upper New York State counties made his first trip through the jail. He wanted to find out what his prisoners were guilty of. He asked the first prisoner he met what he was sent up for and this one replied: "For nothing at all, see? I am innocent." He asked eight or ten others, with the same result. The next day he asked twenty more and found them all innocent. There are evidently a very clean lot of birds in that jail. Finally he found a man who was more sincere, and asked him what he had been sent up for.

"For molder," replied the man in a low growl.

"Well," said the sheriff, "you get right out of my jail and stay out, I am not going to have you here corrupting all these good men."

Who's Who Today

HORACE M. TOWNER.

Horace M. Towner, eighth civil governor of Porto Rico, is known as an Iowa because he has represented that state in congress for years but Illinois claims him as one of its native sons.

He was born in Baldwinsville, N. Y., Oct. 23, 1855. He studied law at the University of Chicago and Union College of law at the Windy City and then went to Iowa, where he settled in Corning, began the practice of law there and won his wife there.

He was elected judge of the third district and was on that bench for twenty years. He then was elected to the sixty-second congress and served one term, continuing through the sixty-seventh.

He is a Republican. He succeeded E. Mont Reilly of Missouri at the Porto Rican post.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Motor Trucks vs. Railroads.

The time is ripe to treat as justice demands the big motor trucks which compete with the railroads. They have become great freight haulers. A census taken in 1921 showed that a year ago showed the freight business done by motor trucks on the New York-Boston highway alone amounted to $5,000,000 a year. The road was worn and badly damaged by the trucks and Connecticut now provides for the ordinary users of the road except through the construction of a special highway for trucks. Meanwhile the New Haven railroad, built to serve Connecticut was losing money, part of which went to pay for the road worn out by trucks.

And who pays for the road the truck has worn out? The state or locality. The railroads, which are taxed in every town along their route, have to pay a share of the damage done by their competitors, the heavy trucks.

The railroads have to buy their own rights of way, build their roads, maintain them and pay taxes on the value of the property. The motor trucks use the public right of way, pay nothing for truck roads, and pay nothing except a trifling license fee toward the public taxes.

There is no equity in such a condition as this. The New York Herald is not opposed to the commercial truck. But now that the heavy truck has become so important that the highways are worn and choked with it it is only fair that the trucks should pay their way. They should not be allowed freedom from the taxation and control that are imposed upon the railroads.—New York Herald.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

April 18, 1883.—Col. Burr Robbins' Hippopotamus—one of the four in this country and the largest ever put on exhibition—is being carefully sent at the Colonial headquarters here. The show is preparing to go on tour.—Madison has installed a free postal delivery service. It does a business of $28,000 as compared with Janesville's $18,000.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

April 18, 1893.—The last thing the old council did to going out was to order an investigation of some of the actions of Street Commissioners Horn. Some of his papers are said to be fraudulent.—Both railroads running through Janesville have adopted the rate of other western roads in connection with special passage to the world's fair. The round-trip cost to Chicago will be $14.00.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

April 18, 1903.—Both the Southern Wisconsin Interurban company and the Janesville Traction company are again to go after a franchise for a road from here to Madison. Two franchises have been refused by the city council.—Prospects for a good golf season are bright, with both Madison and Rockford clubs asking for game dates.

TEN YEARS AGO

April 18, 1913.—Four prizes aggregating $100 are to be awarded the winners of the contest for the name for the Twenty-Five Thousand Club. Petitions are circulating at the high school for the organization of a baseball team. There is much good material among the best players being Andrew Connell, Victor Himmig, Joe Ryan and Ray Edler.

THE LORD SUSTAINS.

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint.—Isaiah 40:31.

THE STORY OF LIFE

Chicago public high schools threaten to teach pupils about human life through the use of a book, a discussion, with the majority of educators who know anything about life apparently not enthusiastic about the departure. There are preachers, high school teachers who are competent to handle this subject. Maybe Chicago will train a corps of biologists especially for the work. It demands serious thinking. Life—human life—is not taught in ordinary training schools or colleges for teachers. It isn't done, that's all.

In the course of our preparation for war, the United States public health service began to issue free pamphlets regarding human life, reproduction, the hygiene of sex and the diseases which result from wrong sex living; these pamphlets are still obtainable through your own state board of health or the United States Public Health Service, 15 Seventh St., Washington, D. C. The pamphlets are listed for these particular classes:

Pamphlet A.—For young men.
 Pamphlet B.—For the general public.
 Pamphlet C.—For boys.
 Pamphlet D.—For parents.
 Pamphlet E.—For girls and young women.

In writing for these pamphlets be sure to specify which one you want. Do not write me about them. The one for educators at least helps teachers to realize how little they know about teaching sex hygiene or anything pertaining to sex life. I have been trained for this specialty.

Now the U. S. P. H. S. is going into the subject further, trying to help parents with the problem of sex education of their children about life. A special pamphlet has been issued, entitled "The Wonderful Story of Life." It is along the lines of a mother's talks with her children regarding life and its reproduction.

I regret to say that the United States government charges five cents for this pamphlet; by sending five cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., anybody may obtain a copy, or I suppose any number of copies desired, but five cents is not a small sum. I do not want this. I merely mention it.

This "Wonderful Story of Life" is pretty simple. I don't know whether it is too simple or whether it is too old for some older folk but it is about as well told as the story can be told at present, I think. It gives the parent at least an excellent outline.

Q. When is Mother's day? W. G. C.
 A. Mother's day is the second Sunday in May. On this day a red flower is worn for a living mother, or a white flower in memory of a mother who has died.

Q. How has my element of heat? A.
 A. Ice is merely water that is below 32 degrees F. in temperature. The absolute zero, at which temperature there is no longer any heat, is below heat is -40 degrees F. Therefore, ice at 32 degrees F. has quite an amount of heat in it.

Q. If a ship is out at sea and is being attacked by a submarine, what should the captain do? C. S.
 A. The navy department says that generally speaking, when a person speaks of a target being out of sight he means out of sight at the level of the gun. A target may still be visible from the tops of the masts, and by the firing control system of the ship the range and direction can be very easily determined, and a hit scored. Accuracy in this comes from constant drilling and practice. A target being out of sight from the masts is not the same as being out of sight from the gun. It is necessary to send an aeroplane close enough to the target to be able to observe where the shots fall and then communicate that information by radio or other kind of signal as to increasing or decreasing the range more to the right or to the left, etc.

Q. What is the flag of Ireland? A.
 A. The official flag of the Irish Free State is three horizontal bands, the top green, the center white, and the lower yellow. This was adopted in 1922.

Q. What is the middle verse in the Bible? E. E.
 A. Psalms CXXXV—8.

Q. How should the name Hail be pronounced? M. H.
 A. It is derived from a Greek word, Hail, which means a king. It is variously pronounced in English. The name may be either long or short, and the accent is on the first syllable.

Now Is The Time To Build

If you are going to put a new sleeping porch on your house, or buy a new car, this is the time of year to do it. You may have in mind putting on a new fence or new clothes in the backyard. All of these things and a hundred more can be done economically by building in a minimum of time and without the necessity of calling in help from the outside. There is no reason why you cannot lay a concrete walk or drive yourself. With simple instructions you can mix the concrete in the proper proportions, build the necessary forms, and set the mixture. The instructions are contained in a revised edition of the concrete booklet, which is offered free to any one who sends for it. ## BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but they do not have after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Mother, don't let colds get underway; at the first cough or snuffle rub Muterole on the throat and chest. Muterole is a pure, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It draws out congestion, relieves soreness, does all the work of the most old-fashioned mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Lowest Figure $30,000 Over Amount City Would Spend.

Delavan—Nine bids were made on the combined armory, city hall and community building and opened in Milwaukee Tuesday. The lowest is $30,000 over the amount Delavan expected it would cost. Eight bids were announced at the organization meeting of the city council Tuesday night and the ninth was forwarded to Milwaukee, having been sent to Delavan. The council, May 2, ordered the architect to draw plans for a $70,000 building.

No action was taken by the new council, which deferred consideration of the matter until the state architect, H. C. Henrichs, Milwaukee, is heard from officially on the bids. Three new bidders were seated. They are Charles Brabazon, C. E. Sturtevant and George Woods. The next regular meeting is in May.

Few of the bids included plumbing, heating, wiring and erection of jail cells, and the prices quoted below are on a basis of all the work. The architect bureau taken the lowest bid for this work and added to the bids for the general construction work.

The bids are: Appleton Construction company, $102,222; Bandera, Christensen and company, Racine, $103,106; W. R. Deason, Madison, $103,448; J. P. Who operates a basic industry is less important than how many people benefit by it.

From the cement industry, an extraordinary number benefit.

In making the 455,000,000 sacks turned out last year, the mills used 8,500,000 tons of coal. This meant 8,500 coal miners steadily employed—their families, numbering not less than 25,000, maintained—and along with them tradesmen and other people enough to supply the needs of a town of over 50,000.

That is, of course, saying nothing of the business created for coal operators and transportation lines.

Sacks are a lesser item in the cement industry than coal, yet 50,000,000 new sacks, representing 50,000 bales—25,000,000 pounds—of cotton, had to be bought last year. Back of this were cotton planters, plantation workers, mill owners, mill operatives and so on—thousands altogether.

And consider these other requirements of the industry last year:

4,400,000 barrels of fuel oil
3,400,000 cubic feet of gas
15,000,000 pounds of explosives
32,600,000 pounds of greases and oils
1,600,000 linear feet of belting
4,500,000 firebrick for relining kilns
7,000,000 pounds of paper for bags
570,000 tons of gypsum

In addition the industry bought quantities of heavy grinding and burning machinery, locomotives, cars, rails, electrical and other necessary equipment.

It's interesting, isn't it, how a single industry can spread prosperity?

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

SUPR. BRAY of the Port Atkinson public schools feels that the Gazette's interest in boosting participating sports for the amateur is helping considerably in creating a finer spirit of competition between the high schools of the Rock river valley. He says the Gazette has helped foster a finer co-operation between the several institutions. The Gazette is glad that Mr. Bray feels as he does, but it would not feel his duty was done until Mr. Bray for fostering the actual endeavors of schools and developing a high type of athletics based upon the one idea of developing active minds in study, body and moulding the highest in ideals.

THOUGH we of the West consider ourselves in advance of the civilization of the Far East, yet we may look to such countries as China for ideas. In an article published by the Gazette, Mr. L. Shon, a Chinese student at a local college, says that sports for all is the predominant factor in Chinese student life. "Even the biggest bookworm," he says, "would not feel his duty was done until he had taken some vigorous exercise." China, it would seem from Mr. Shon's article, is developing the spirit of its nationalism through sports.

MORE significant than his prediction that the Giants will again be seen this year winning the pennant of the National League, John McGray's statement that the big task he faces is to win over-confidence. In dropping into fourth place, the Woolens Mills hit the highest count so far in the tourney, a 2,411. Their handicap of 245 is the lowest to date. The Woolens were winners of the local 1-0 league this year.

The Woolens slipped into fourth position by a short shot, pushing the City Meat Shop into fifth hole. School's Sausage makers, gathering an actual total of 2,250 and holding a handicap of 354, rushed into seventh place with a 2,411.

First games in the two-man event were rolled Tuesday night. Horth-Western led into first place with a count of 1,168. Their actual count was an even 1,000.

Western took the lead in the singles for the first night's games with 617, having an actual count of 592. Highest mark was made by Horth who rolled a 200 for 528, but his handicap was but 60, giving him second place with 588.

BADGER RELATIONS WITH WOLVERINES NOT BROKEN—JONES

Madison — The statement sent out recently from Anna Arbor that Michigan has severed relations with Wisconsin in basketball was misleading, according to T. E. Jones, director of physical education of the University of Wisconsin.

"It is true," said Mr. Jones, "that Michigan and Wisconsin will not meet in basketball next winter, but the reason is that under the conference, less each conference team can play but three preliminary games and 12 conference games during the season, and under an agreement made Sept. 12, 1922, between the basketball coaches, the conference games will be rotated each year. Under that agreement no two teams will meet in basketball three years in succession, but each conference team will meet three teams on its last year's schedule and three new teams each year. Home and home games are played in basketball instead of alternating as in football.

Quick Carp Elimination Plan at Lake Koshkonong

In the event the state legislature passes the Cawley bill to open rough fish seining in Lake Koshkonong, the most efficient methods possible to rid the water of the fish, that quickly will be put into effect by the conservation commission. This premise was made to the members of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America by Elmer S. Hall, chairman of the commission, in a talk here Tuesday night.

Eighty-five sportsmen attended the meeting, held in city hall. According to Mr. Hall, the lake would be divided into several districts and bids received from experienced commercial fishermen, the job being let to the highest bidder for each district. Plans would demand the successful bidder file a certified check and a bond specifying he will provide proper equipment. Seining would open, he said, on the same date in each district.

"We would want the most efficient cleaning up of the lake and that quickly," stated Mr. Hall. "We will not let contracts to any one to enable that party to idle around." Mr. Hall declared no legislation has been passed affecting fishing this year. He spoke of a number of proposed changes, stating there are 50 fish and game bills pending in the legislative halls at Madison.

The club gave a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Hall. It also decided to thank Congressman Henry Allen Cooper for all rendered.

It was announced Tuesday that the Rev. O. W. (Outdoor) Smith, Evansville, member of the local club, will be its delegate to the national Izaak Walton convention opening Wednesday at Chicago.

Beloit May Drop Relays at Drake

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit—Beloit college invades Madison Saturday for a dual track meet with the university. These who will go include Captain Addie, Thompson, Nygren, Morrill, Dahlgren, McAllister, Brandt, Gies, Chambers, Wheeler, Vondrashek, Warner, Moore, Dapke, W. Pierce, D. Butler, Loe, Kulich, Loucks, Randolph, Grady, Calver and Vilboresman.

Beloit is out of placing up in front in the pole vault, half-mile and broad jump, but is weak in the high jump. This is the only meet of the year in which the Gold will rank Dahlgren to throw the hammer, since that event will be omitted in other meets.

The loss of Rietz will be keenly felt since Addie is the only one left for the 100 and 200. Rietz did not make enough credits to be eligible. The faculty failed to come to any decision on him. If Rietz remains ineligible the Gold may not be represented at the Drake relays this year.

IDAHO IN MARKET FOR WIS. STOCK

E. L. Walker Making Investigation of Wisconsin Dairy Industry.

"No state have I noted the prosperity that can be compared to that of the southern counties in Wisconsin. The dairy cow is the answer," says E. L. Walker, Rexburg, Idaho, who was sent by a Chamber of Commerce of Idaho to make a survey of the dairy industry and livestock farming of Wisconsin.

Idaho is in the market for your dairy cattle and blooded hogs. Our farmers must develop a market for their crop especially alfalfa, in dairy products or market stock. It is remarkable the interest taken in dairymen in Wisconsin for the banker, business man as well as the farmer takes cow."

It was explained that Idaho had record crops of alfalfa, other legume crops and grains but was unable to market them at a profit because of the freight rates. Hay delivered in an Idaho city costs less than the freight to transport the hay to Janesville. Consequently the Idaho farmers are buying stock for market or dairy.

Mr. Walker has been in several Wisconsin counties and will complete his survey in Rock county the latter part of the week. On Wednesday he was in Green county investigating the cheese industry. An effort is being made to secure several experienced dairymen to go to Idaho to instruct the farmers there how to obtain full results from dairy animals.

"I think what it would mean if you in Wisconsin were just making a start to put cattle in your state, you have a line of agriculture here that is solid and permanent. Our farmers are coming here to buy these cattle and we want help in starting out."

Special interest was shown in the Rock county. Milking Shorthorn herds by the Idaho visitor. He was shown the herd of the Walter Little estate on Tuesday afternoon and many of the other herds will be inspected later in the week.

"You have wonderful cattle in Rock county. I have not seen better examples of fine livestock as they appear under ordinary farm conditions. The Rock county farm Holstein herd was as good in practical development as I found in my trip. I only wished we had cattle and hogs like that on the farms here I have already inspected."

Irrigation projects are being put in by the government in parts of Idaho, which it is declared, will increase the agricultural prospects of the state to a great extent. While in Janesville Tuesday, Mr. Walker spoke at the Rotary club meeting, being a member from the Rexburg club.

ANTI-TRUST FUND VOTED BY SENATE

Madison — The continuance of anti-trust prosecutions in Wisconsin is provided for in a $10,000 appropriation bill now in congress by the senate. This measure continues the fund allowed Attorney General Morgan, to institute actions against corporations violating the state anti-trust act. This statute is now before the supreme court for a test of its constitutionality. A number of cases under it are still pending in the courts, making the fund recommended by the finance committee, necessary.

TAX INFORMATION RULES FORMULATED

Disclosure of Earnings Without Good Cause May be Barred.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison — Regulations to govern the disclosure of information concerning income tax returns of Wisconsin corporations and individuals are being drawn by the tax commission, following Governor Blaine's signature to the Severson bill, repealing the secrecy clause.
Thomas B. Lyons, chairman of the commission, announced that a definite procedure will be outlined for obtaining income tax information. He intimated that the rules of the commission will be drafted to prevent, as far as possible, the promiscuous use of tax information by irresponsible persons.
New Safeguard Features
Members of the commission are of the opinion that rules can be put in force that will safeguard the earnings of individuals and corporations in Wisconsin, unless there is reason for their disclosure.
"We do not expect a great demand for income tax information at this time," Commissioner Lyons said. "Before political campaigns, however, and at other times when there may be a special use made of earnings reports, there is doubt will be a demand on this office for the returns of certain individuals and corporations."

The tax commission expects, he declared, that additional work will be entailed by operation of the new law. It will have to organize to furnish the information legitimately asked for by persons seeking to take advantage of the statute, he said.

Campaign Subject
The secrecy clause in the past has operated to keep income taxes from the public. During the last campaign, Governor Blaine as an official, obtained much of the information held by the commission concerning certain corporations, and used it in campaign addresses. "He and other progressive leaders urged repeal of the secrecy provision contending that repeal would result in substantial results by uncovering unpaid income taxes, and by forcing individuals and corporations to make honest returns."

What the full effect of the repeal law will be the commission says it is not in a position at this time to say.

Schemes to Collect Good Dollars and Distribute Least Desirable Goods, Are Forbidden In J. C. Penney Co. Stores!

Noah Webster defines the word "sale" as "the exchange of a commodity (merchandise) for money of EQUIVALENT VALUE."

Note those words, "EQUIVALENT VALUE!"

Shakespeare says of "Safeswork"—"work or things made for SALE; hence, work carelessly done."

When an article's value or intrinsic worth is EQUIVALENT or equal to its REGULAR price, that price cannot be reduced for a so-called "sale" without loss to the merchant—and merchants are not in business to lose money.

When the price is high, it is not an "equivalent value." The merchandise is not worth the price.

Hence, when high prices are reduced it is merely re-arranging them to where they should have been in the beginning. Thus, it is seen, that the public is not being given the same fair, just and honorable treatment every day in the year.

The J. C. Penney Company never holds "sales." Prices at our Stores are fixed at the bottom-notch in the beginning.
